22. Applicants should fill in the appropriate form, we then aim to get back to applicants within four weeks of submission. We do not assign places on a first come basis, rather we aim to curate an eclectic and historic line up of cars that we think will interest a wide range of people. That said, places do fill up quickly, so getting your application in early does offer an advantage. People applying close to the time of the event are highly unlikely to be offered a place.
